PLIGHT VOW AT ALTAR SUNDAY

Harry Quartaroli Claims Miss Albina Eraldi as His Bride at Pretty Church Wedding

Before an altar beautifully adorned with the fairest lilies, roses and ferns, in St. Francis Church Sunday, Harry Quartaroli, one of Sonoma's popular young men claimed Miss Albina Eraldi, one of our most estimable young ladies for his bride. The ceremony was performed after the noon hour by Rev. Father Comerford in the presence of about fifty relatives and intimate friends.

The bridal party was indeed a lovely one for the bride looked more than pretty in her rich ro bes of white crepe de chine, veiled in filmy chiffon with real orange blossoms in her hair while her matron of honor, Mrs. Leonora Fochetti, was a symphony in pink crepe de chine and chiffon overdress. The shower boquets were white roses and lilies of the valley for the bride and pink roses and ferns for her attendant. Shoulder length gloves and satin slippers completed the beeoming costumes.

After the solemn vows which made the handsome couple one the bridal party and their guests motored to the El Dorado Hotel, the home of the groom's parents where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served. The banquet room presented a most artistic and festive appearance, the ceiling being festooned with pink and white streamers and the walls backed high with Woodwardia ferns intermingled with pink and white blossoms. The banquet board was strewn with pink and white roses together with graceful smilax and here the entire party was seated the radiant bride and groom in the midst of those who were nearest and dearest. The dinner itself could not have been better and every course served out-rivaled the other, the rich wedding cake being a triumph in confectionary. Around the festive board the health, wealth and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Quartaroli were toasted in the finest of wine and champagne and every good wish for their future was bestowed upon them. The Bay City trio rendered some beautiful vocal selections.

At four o'clock the young people departed on their honeymoon in an auto amid a shower of rice and confetti, their destination however remaining a secret.

The bride's going away gown was a becoming Shepard check of the larger new patterns with tailored hat and modish white shoes.

Upon their return home Mr. and Mrs. Quartaroli will go to house keeping while beginning to plan on the new bungalow which they expect to build in the near future wherein their costly wedding gifts will be displayed to much advantage for they were the recipients of the finest china, bric a bac, cutglass and linen many of the latter gifts being from the Native Daughters of which the bride was a popular member.

MUST PAY BACK ALIMONY

Judge A. L. Davis, of Santa Rosa, departed for San Francisco Thursday morning, where he had matters before the Superior court. Judge Davis represented Mrs. Alice McHarvey in her action against her husband, C. F. McHarvey, in which they have restored the ancient records of the case and replaced it on the calendar of the courts. It was a hard fought case, in which Mrs. McHarvey sued her husband for alimony for the past twenty years. They won a victory and the husband must pay. Clarence Mc Harvey is the only son of the late Mrs. Arvilla McHarvey.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS CARD WINNERS

Those who attended the benefit card party given by the Native Daughters at the spacious Adler home had a most enjoyable evening. About 50 were present and "500", whist and pedro were played in the different rooms of the prettily decorated residence. Prize winners were as follows:

"500", Mrs. Simmons, first prize for ladies; Henry Weber, for gentlemen; consolation prize, James McElney. Whist, Mrs. Cohen and Jack Poulson. Pedro, Tom Monahan first; consolation Chas. Groskopf.

Refreshments were served by the ladies of the local Parlor.

Notable Triumph Achieved by Club Women at Benefit

Pretty and Clever Children Participate in May Day Festivities While Talented Amateurs Interpret Difficult Roles of Shakespeare

Sonoma's Club women achieved a notable triumph Saturday for their Spring Festival and Shakespearean Pageant was not only a financial success, but an artistic triumph enriching the community's appreciation of beauty, rhymth, poetry and art while adding materially to the worthy cause (the building of the club house) which inspired the ambitions and landable undertaking. Too much credit cannot be given Mrs. Carrie Burlingame the moving spirit in the big production for her enthusiastic supervision and coaching of the various acts presented.

The Festival day was of Sonoma's matchless out of door weather and the improvised theatre at the High School grounds furnished an ideal setting for the gaily decked little maidens and their dimutive cavaliers who began to arrive early, for the call of Spring and loyalty to Queen Marion was strong within them. The grounds were thronged by 10 o'clock with the royal party, the youthful participants and the fine array of spectators until is seemed that all the loyal subjects of the fantastic monarch of poesy's realm were assembled and been transported on some magic carpet to this land of romance.

Queen Marion, the sweet and pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Benjamin of El Verano looked charming in her billowy white coronation robes trimmed in tiny rose buds of pink, and in the processional which preceded the coronation ceremonies her approach was sounded by the galy garbed herald (Peter Yenni) after whom came the petitely pretty flower girls, Countess Prestwood and Violet Bordson, scattering petals in the path of the royal train. Then followed the six maids of honor from the various school districts of the valley—fair maids all clad in white and wearing pink and white rose garlands, One of the ladies-in-waiting carried in state the crown of Cecil Breuner roses on a white satin cushion for her beauteous queen. The queen came next moving along with courtly grace under a gorgeous canopy carried by four devoted knights, Gordon Bordsen, Carl Whitmore, Walter Carter and Cecil Hunter; two gallant train bearers, Arthur Sycrowsky and Coleman Campbell terminating the gala march to the throne where the coronation ceremonies took place. After receiving the insignia of her royal office Queen Marion bade her subjects make merry and straghtway many pretty and artistic acts were presented before the Court. There was a costumed Dutch dance by Tulevista School pupils, a drill by the flower basket girls trained in beautiful poses by Mrs. Von Hacht, a review of the Knights of King Arthur, folk dancing by talented Glen Ellen pupils, an aesthetic dance by Eleanor Rensch robed in opalescent shades of twilight's hour and the gorgeous May pole act which was El Verano's contribution to the program the children having been coached in the intricate details by Mrs. McRenoylds with music by Mrs. Steckmeyer.

At noon the delighted audience gathered under the shady trees for their picnic luncheons supplimenting the home fare with the delicaries sold by the club ladies.

The Pageant

By two o'clock a crowd thronged the seats sloping down to the grassy sward on which the buskined actors were to tread and interpret Shakespeare's masterpieces. There was a hush of expectancy and awe as the colorful characters in the pageant appeared from the leafy wings of the out-of-doors and an outburst of enthusiastic delight as the costumed figures to the strains of appropiate music circled the ampitheatre. Then the personality of each faded away and familiar companions were transformed into the characters they essayed.

With mysterous incantation the weird witches three of "Macbeth" appeared on the heath to brew the deadly potion of dismay and to forbode the tragic climax of the tragedy. Mesdames F. T. Duhring, Wm. Von Hacht and Miss Minnie Cook were the harshed voiced harbingers of evil. Clad in robe and hood "as dark as Erebus," their voices all keyed to a different pitch the effect was indeed splendi and would have been a credit to professionals so fine was the interpretation.

Then was evolved the miracle worker himself, sublime Shakespeare in black velvet and ruff, a heroic figure who routs the witches and called upon his Ariel as follows:

S. "Whence this assembled multitude, this vast concourse of people? Why this company?

A. They desire to recall the plays of olden time.

S. Dost thou remember those fair divinities, Ceres, Juno, Iris?

A. I do my Lord.

S Call them hither to me!"

Cires, Juno and Iris played by Mrs. McElney, Miss Zolita Bates and Mrs. Florence Adler were godessess fairer than the Greek conception. No myths but flesh and

FAREWELL GIVEN FATHER COMERFORD

Notable Gathering Arranged by Y. M. I. Wednesday in Honor of Departing Priest

The farewell reception tendered Rev. Father Comerford on the eve of his leavetaking to West Berkeley parish by the Y. M. I. assisted by the ladies of St. Francis Church was a notable gathering and a high testimonial of the deep regard in which the popular priest is held in Sonoma Valley.

Woodmen Hall was thronged with the parishoners and friends of the esteemed priest whose advancement is a matter of heartfelt congratulation but whose leavetaking leaves a void in Sonoma that will be hard indeed to fill.

In the midst of fifty or more young men of the Institute to which he has been counselor and friend, surrounded by the people whohave grown attached to him during the past years, the distinguished guest sat down to a banquet, which would have done honor to any celebrity. The tables were handsomely decorated with American beauty roses and a fine type of citizenship was there represented.

Dr. I. C Gobar, one of the head officers of the council, acted as toast master.

R. J. Dowdell, a charter member of the Y. M. I. and also a member of the Sonoma Valley Union High School Board of Trustees, was the first speaker called upon. Mr. Dowdell expressed much regret at the leave-taking of Father Comerford and dwelt on the great spiritual growth and religious quickening he had brought into the community during his stay as resident pastor and of the material good also accomplished. He enlivened his speech with many amusing and witty stories which greatly pleased the company.

Walter Paulson, first vice president of the Order, was the next speaker who voiced his great regret and that of his fellow members of the council, at the leavetaking of the eminent priest; how he had increased the attendance of the men at church and awakened them to their highest duties.

Roaul Emparan followed and his remarks were filled with praise and tribute to Father Comerford for his noble upbuilding of the Y. M. I. and the good done in Sonoma. He said the results accomplished were due to the energy and ambition of the departing one whom he wished God speed and every reward that could come in his service in the priesthood.

Dr. Gobar in a neat speech presented Father Comerford with a handsome testimonial of the regard of his parishoners in the form of a substantial check and as the priest rose to voice his response he was greeted with applause. He spoke with noble pride in the parish he was leaving and in the Council over whose destinies he had watched so carefully and urged the members to keep up the good work he had builded and co-operate with his successor in every way possible. He said that as much as he hated to leave, that the vows of priesthood demanded that he obey the mandate of his Archbishop to do service where his lot was cast, but that he would ever cherish the recollection of Sonoma and warmly welcome old friends to his new church At the conclusion of his address three cheers for the beloved priest resounded through the hall and the company sang, "For He is a Jolly Good Fellow."

The speech making was interspersed with music by Mrs. L. V. Emparan and numbers by a trio composed of James Kearney, Miss Walsh and John Dowdell.

After the banquet there were piano solos by Mrs. E. Steiger, Joe McMullen and several vocal selections in Italian by B. Mori and by Mr. and Mrs. A. Clerici.

The affair was a most enjoyable one and a fitting tribute to the priest who worked unceasingly for the good of St. Francis' church and its upbuilding and leaves with the good wishes of everyone in the community irrespective of nationality or creed.

"The proud he tamed, the penitent he cheered
Norto rebuke the rich offender fear'd
His preaching much, but more his practice wrought,
A living sermon of the truth he taught."

Loyal Republicans Redeem California

Loyal Republicans awakened to the neccessity of redeeming California to the party of progress and prosperity have assured this same progress and prosperity by giving a handsome majority to the regular Republican delegates who can take their place at Chicago with men of power and distinction in Republican ranks and give to this nation a president to whom the destiny of our great and glorious country will be no less important than the critical present with its great problem of tariff, finance, international law, national defense and kindred vital questions.

No longer will California be regarded as a freak State. The day of rule or ruin has ended. The voice of the people heard in no uncertain terms shall rule and Republicans every one owe it to the great and intelligent electorate of this State to solidify the party that the people want to see in power and ever make it the glorious exponent of the principles of Lincoln and McKinley, guaranteeing all the inviolable rights looked for under our proud flag.

Perhaps there was for a time apathy on the part of many excellent Republicans, but excellent Republicans there have ever been, despite the aspersions cast upon them by dissenters, but this apathy was dispelled when it became apparent that the party was being sacrificed to personal greed and ambition for the few in power and that the cry of reform was the demogogues ruse to fool the people. Then it was that California Republicans realized that the disinterested voter endangers the framework of his commonwealth which can be undermined by the unscrupulous politican so with mighty acclaim the voters rose up and proclaimed his interest which resulted in the handsome majority of Tuesday. You cannot fool all the people all the time and this is the safety contrivance in our government.

All Republicans should now abide by the will of the people and solidify in California that we may be of the highest efficiency in electing a Republican President. In union there is strength and by the cooperation and interest of the best elements in the Republican party its perpetuity will be better guaranteed. Let us not stand asunder or criticize while standing out. Let us work out all our cherished ideals on the inside as part and parcel of the party column which stands for the best and highest interests of this mighty nation.

The Family Hearth

A writer recently deplores the fact that because of artificial modern contrivances for heating snch as steam radiators, gas and electricity that the time honored hearth around which the family circle was wont to gather has become almost a thing of the past as the trysting place of the home circle. We rise to remark that if the sacred hearth is obsolete so is the family circle which was wont to gather around this cheery relic of yesterday. In fact the cheery relic is more often present in modern times than the collective group about it. Cheery coals and blazing logs are kept going by some poor soul, old, alone and decrepit or else incapacitated, some odd one who could not get to go with the rest, for lo! the family circle is else-where gathered; about a bridge table, crowded into the tonneau of a six cylinder or freezing in the midst of tire trouble; suffering with some poor Tess of the Storm Country in a popular picture show, grouped about a table at a dinner dansant or frolicking at a skating rink. Verily times have changed and in this busy age we seem neither to have the time to start the blazing log upon the time honored hearth nor yet to tend it, for our gods are no longer the Lares and Penates of the ancients but we worship speed instead while coals and real burning fire suggests itself to us only when there are troublesome speed cops whom we would have consigned to a place of similar nature but deeper dimention. Vesta, goddess of the hearth, is perchance revered in some bungalow which prides itself on a quaint old fashioned fire place, and sacred to her memory it is artistically screened or filled with shiny green huckleberry. Its real utility is ashes long since sacrificed, for ashes are dirt in modern housekeeping and smoke is not good for the voice in this victrolan age in which we live.

Good old friend, the spirit which you kindled of good fellowship, faith and duty is still within us and Father Time is your most devoted servant. He will bring us all back ere long to where the fire place is or where we would wish it to be. When other joys pall upon the senses, when memory is dearer than all, when the family group has been bereft, when the sunset and evening star are calmly contemplated, we will welcome your restful chair by the embers.

A prohibition pamphlet says "if we would quit paying 15c for a cocktail containing one cherry, we could buy a whole bag full of cherries." Yes, but how about the cholera morbus we might get and a $2 doctor's bill?

MOTHER DIES AGED NINETY-ONE

Mrs. G. Guilfoyle Pioneer of Fifties Passes Away After Two Years Illness

Mrs Mary Guilfoyle, a pioneer mother of Sonoma county, passed away here Saturday at the venerable age of ninety-one years. Mrs Guilfoyle was born in Ireland in the year 1825, March the seventeenth and left her native land at the age of fifteen for Sidney, Australia and there met and married her late husband, Patrick Guilfoyle who was in the nursery business there with his brother, Michel. Early in the year 1856 they left Sidney harbor in a sailing vessel bound for San Francisco. After a three months voyage they arrived in California joining Mr. Guilfoyle's four sisters, Mrs Richard Phillips, Mrs Peter Johnson, Mrs Tom Brown and Miss B Guilfoyle.

Early in the Spring of 1860, the couple located in Lakeville, Sonoma county and settled on a 400 acre ranch adjoining the Bibler and Pless Phariss ranches Here the children, six sons and three daughters were raised. The sons are Wm John, Richard, Frank, Joseph and James Guilfoyle all residents of California and the daughters Margret Guilfoyle, Mrs Louisa Branch and the late Mrs Mary Thompson. The grand children number ten and there are four great grandchildren.

The pioneer lady had always been active and enjoyed good health until the death of her daughter when grief brought on a decline more than her years could bear. For the past two years she has been confined to her home on Second street east and been faithfully cared for by her daughter, Mrs Branch and by her son, Frank the well known Native Son. Her declining years were full of patience and resignation Strong in the faith of her church she passed peacefully away.

Doctor and Druggist go to Penn Grove

Dr. Francis and A. E. Benson, physician and druggist of Glen Ellen, have gone to Penn Grove where they will engage in business.

REQUEST FOR FREIGHT RATES

The Northwestern Pacific thru it's general passenger and freight agent, Mr. Geary, has shown commendable spirit in adjusting the freight rates between Cloverdale and various points on the road as requested by the Cloverdale Grape Protective Association. The following interesting letter came from Mr. Geary in answer to the request from the Citrus belt.

San Francisco, Cal., Apr. 21, 1916

Cloverdale Grape Protective Association, Cloverdale, Cal.

Gentlemen:

With reference to recent discussion with us regarding the present rates upon wine, fuel wood, wine grapes and hay between Cloverdale and various points, we have made a careful investigation of the rates upon the commodities, and beg to advise as follows:

On the wine grapes from Cummiskey to Healdsburg I find that the rate can be reduced to $1 50 per ton, in carloads, and this will be done.

The rates on fuel wood from Cloverdare to points south thereof can be reduced to a number of points, and I will arrange to publish rates on rough oak and pine wood from Cloverdale to Healdsburg to $1 50 per cord; to Santa Rosa $1 50; to Sebastopol $1.75 per cord and to Petaluma $1.75. This is as low as we can consistently make them

Regarding the rate on wine from Cloverdale to San Francisco, I must state that we cannot make any reduction, but we must say that the rate is not high in comparison to many similar distances on other lines in California similarly located The rate from Cloverdale should not be compared with the rate from Napa or from points on the S. P. Co's Napa or Calistoga branches. Napa, as you know, enjoys water transportation, and Napa rates by rail, as well as points interior from Napa are forced to a low point by a reason thereof. We cannot, therefore, be expected to meet such water compelled rates to inland points where geographical conditions are entirely different.

Referring to the hay rate spoken of from Petaluma to Cloverdale of $1.55 per ton, in comparison to Petaluma to Ukiah rate of $1.75 per ton, would say that the rate of $1.75 per ton to Ukian is an extremely low rate and we could not go much below. The rate to Cloverdale should not be compared to the rate to San Francisco from Eureka, as that again is a water compelled rate between those ports which does not apply to any interior points. You have the advantage of the $1.75 rate from points on the Sonoma branch from where a good deal of the hay is shipped, and that we also consider a low rate. I regret we cannot do anything to make lower rates upon hay.

We would like you to feel that we are always willing to co-operate to make any adjustment in rates that are reasonable or that can be made without disturoing other relationship, and hope you will understand that we have endeavored to meet your wishes as far as possible in these rates.

Yours truly,

J. J. GEARY.

NOTABLE EVENTS AT OAK GROVE

Mr. and Mrs. H. Koerner announce the following notable events scheduled for the season at their popular resort. May 28th, the Schutzen Club of San Francisco all the prominent medal shooters engaging in the contests and eagle shooting.

June the 4th, United Red Men who will come 400 strong having their special train and band. June 11th Hermans Sons who will arrive via S. P. with music and special features. June 18th Sonoma Moose Social Club, who always attract a fine crowd to their outing.

CHEAP FARE

To encourage Sunday outings in California the Southern Pacific Company has announced that commencing April 30th, round trip tickets to most points in this state where the one way fare is 50c or over but does not exceed $5 will be sold on a basis of one fare for the round trip. They will be good on all trains on Sundays but will be good for return only on trains leaving before Sunday midnight. An illustration of what the new tariff arrangement means, a person desiring to visit San Jose on Sunday could go down there and back for the same amount of money he would have to pay on week days to make the trip one way.

Rev. Father Byne of Napa has been transferred to Oakland and Rev. Father Cantillion of Sebastopol will succeed him. Rev. Father Sesnon will take charge of Sebastopol. He is a trained singof wonderful talent who before entering the priesthood sang with Modam Melba.

The plays are to be followed by dancing on the fine surface of the new hall with a splendid orchestra as an added incentive to trip the light fantastic.

The following ladies will participate in the production and act as hostesses with other well-known club women of our sister town: Mesdames Shepard, W. Gaige, C. Lane, Cromwell, A. E. Gaige, C. Poppe, Edrington, Anderson, W, Cowan, Clapp, Osborne, Higgins, H. Gaige, Miss H. Brand.

REUNION OF ALASKANS

Mr. and Mrs. Erazmos participated in an Alaska reunion which took place last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Carpenter in Petaluma. There were nine guests, all of which had been in the government service in the far North. It was a most congenial gathering abounding in remembrance of the land of the midnight sun, and the company did ample justice to the fine spread at the beautifully appointed table set by the hostess.

Exquisite doilies and roses from the garden made the dining room very attractive, while the feast was nothing short of a potlach de luxe.

The host, Mr. Carpenter, was in the wireless service of Uncle Sam and Mr. Erazmus was head of the Commessary Department.

blood beauty upon which the broad light of day shed little imperfection as with music they played in the masque of the "Tempest" Here too came the nymphs in their graceful dance, Misses Baccala, Goldsmith, Rench and Helberg, personifications of grace and beauty. At their vanishing came again Shakespeare to speak as follows:

S. Don't thou recall the melancholy Hamlet and the pale Ophelia, how she died of unrequitted love? Call them here to me.

W. T. Holt was the melancholy Hamlet, his good voice and physique lending themselves well to the part and his thoughtful interpetation of the lines showing a deep understanding of the character. Mrs. Ida Hotz, the pathelic Ophelia, interpreted her part with the greatest delicacy and feeling, with just the shading that brings out the beauty of the role. Her singing and speaking voice added much to the effectivness of the lines. Before her flower song Shakespeare came forth to say:

"I have that much on these twain,
When the melancholy Hamlet died,
I felt the weapon pierce my very heart
And when the pale Ophelia lost her reason,
I feared I too should lose the power of tho't.
Ophelia, sad example of love unrequited,
My masterpiece!"

He then called upon Ariel, played most sprightly by Harold Hotz, to summon the "Merchant of Venice" characters. Portia was enacted with great art by Nancy Bates while the Shylock of Ralph Hotz displayed much histrionic ability. Mrs. Wicker was a commanding figure as the Duke of Venice and the other characters were good also.

Macbeth was next "shewn". Ray Button as Macbeth in his armor and helmet, a proud and majestic figure, his rendering of the lines virile, acting an epitome of tragedy. The character of Lady Macbeth in the purple robes of royalty was played by Mrs. Burlingame who ran the gamut of the emotions and displayed great power in the difficult part. Her sleep walking scene made a profound impression.

Next in the pageant in delightful contrast to the soberer scenes came Midsummer Night's Dream, with Pyramus and Thisbe. Titania was essayed by Gertrude Breitenbach and both her appearance and acting were splendid. Puck was by Stephen Duhring, Oberon by M. Tracie, Bottom and Pyramus by Harford Manbert, Snout and the Lion by Stewart Potter, Starveling and the Moon, Donald Cameron, Snug, Summer Brand, Flute, Bunker Dresel, Quince, Rodney Prestwood. The part of the fairies was taken by the nymphs. The comedy was delightful and the actor showed much ability and called forth hearty commedation.

After Shakespeare had taken leave of his good Ariel, the dramatic personae formed a procesional and amid ringing applause passed before a thoroughly delighted audience.

So ended this splendid triumph, a tribute to our local talent and a matter of congratulation to our club women. The pageant was repeated in the evening when there was dancing and sale of refreshments. Net receipts will be something like $175.

The Knights of King Arthur were most helpful and gallant at the grounds.

Harford Mambert took the place of Clyde Johnnsen who could not appear and he played the part exceptionally well.

Glen Ellen was well represented so our club women should reciprocate by attending the Glen Ellen Improvement Club's entertainment tonight. Motor up.

Every "prop" was true to life except a few.

BOYES SPRINGS

Our popular mayor Minges, has been indisposed for a few days. His nurse brought him through with great care.

Henry Merrman, our famous batchelor, is contemplating a trip to the Yosemite.

Frank Koenig, the popular assistant Postmaster, is quite ill. We hope that Frank will keep away from the soda fountain.

Two young chaps from Sonoma are constant visitors to Boyes Springs. Get busy boys!

Geo. Cauce, chief constable at Boyes, is very strong for the widows. He takes excellent care of a certain widow's garden.

Jim Baines, agent for Boyes Springs park, has had four beautiful lights installed on the main driveway, which is a big improvement.

Mrs. Koenig has rented her beautiful bungalow to the leader of the St. Francis Orchestra. He expects to remain at least five months.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kirby had their little daughter christened Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. J. W Kelley, of San Francisco, were the god parents.

Mrs. H. Bradley, of Lebaron, is the guest of Mrs. Graham. She is seen taking early drives with the Graham children to school.

Too bad Doc. was not able to serve on the election board Tuesday.

Col. Brady is still with us, and always greets one with a smile.

Wm. Gowan, contractor and builder, has a fine bungalow under the course of construction. Bill is so busy he cannot smile at the ladies, who pass back and forth to glance at him.

Saturday night will be the big night. A good time is assured to all. Lew Carroll will be the "class."

John Vincent, the popular butcher of El Verano, was a guest of Vineburg friends on Tuesday evening. Mr. Vincent has installed an up to date refrigerating plant in his place of business at El Verano. He was accompanied by his business manager Walter Paulson.

A young friend of ours has discovered a new poultry food which he calls "imitation wheat" which he can place on the market at $1 50 per hundred, F. O. B. Baxterville. We see it coming.

Fred Batto, ascompanied by Misses Adele Andrieux and Louis Batto, were visitors in the metropolis on Tuesday.

Dr. W. B. Vaughn, the well-known veterinary dentist of San Francisco, is a guest of Louis Martin at Vineburg Inn.

Frank C. Rhode, a prominent poultry man of this section, boarded the South bound train on Wednesday morning and in the afternoon returned in his New Overland automobile with James Maffei of Sonoma at the wheel

A double birthday reception was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Batto on Sunday, April 30, in honor of the birth of August Figone and Arthur Batto. Banchero, of Napa, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Batto and family, of Vineburg. After partaking of an elaborate dinner the guests retired to the pretty grounds around the residence where music, songs and pleasantries were enjoyed by all.

A. Chevalier, one of El Verano's solid citizens, was transacting business and exchanging greetings with his many friends in this vicinity on Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Chevalier has a swell machine and he knows how to handle it believe me.

The Gundlach-Bundschu Wine Co. shipped 5 carloads of wine to various points of the Union this past week and received two car loads of cooperage.

Election day passed off quietly in peaceful Vineburg. There was not much excitement as the Box Car Improvement Club had no candidates on any of the tickets and Marshal Forni was on duty all day with his Standard oil star on his breast. Our Marshal is fearless when it comes to performing his duty and he would just as soon live as die.

Sunday was quite a lovely day in the burg, as a large number of people from the bay cities arrived on the train, while others arrived via automobile as guests of friends. Mr. Martin, of Vineburg Inn, served many guests during the day at his resort.

We understand that a certain batchelor, well known and popular in Sonoma Valley, intends to open a meat market in Vineburg.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rector of San Francisco, were the guests of Mayor Jacob Meyers at the "Old Homestead," last week.

WED AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

R. H. Ives and Madame Vara Wed at Napa; Secret Gets Out

The automobile collision with a rig in which R. H. Ives was a recent principal, resulted in the culmination at the altar of a romance between him and Madame Vara, the clarivoyant, to whom he was engaged and was riding down to see on the evening of the accident.

Ives was arrested for reckless driving after colliding with F. Nicholini, near Verano, and his staunchest friend through his trouble was the medium and palmist, who predicted for him a bright future. It came in time alright when he succeeded in being acquitted and on the following Friday won the consent of the clever madam, who had been a widow for 13 years, to become his wife.

They motored to Napa, where a Justice of the Peace tied the knot in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gorsky, who stood up with them.

Ives had been divoreed from a former wife and is engaged in the real estate business.

Whether or not Madame Vara will continue to delve into the mysteries of the future has not been revealed.

REGULARS ARE THE WINNERS

Republican Delegates Win out in Both Precincts Here

The regular Republican delegates to the National convention "Bordwell to Chapman" won out in both Sonoma precincts at the election Tuesday thus placing us in line with other portions of California which from Siskiyou to San Diego "sabeed" the game of the United faction and rolled up a fine victory for real Republicanism. We will now be regularly represented at the Chicago convention. The vote here was light and was totaled as follows.

Precinct No. 1
Regular Republican	39
United Republican	29
Democrat	9
Progressive	3
Precinct No. 2.
Regular Republican	28
United Republican	23

Raise Prices

The blacksmiths of Sonoma have all raised their prices. The new schedule has been made neccessary by the cost of iron and steel which has risen steadily for the past year and compels the honest smithy to charge more for shoeing and general repair work than formerly.

Mrs. John Stockwell underwent an operation for gallstones.

SONOMA PLAYS GOOD BALL

The following account appeared in a Healdsburg paper in reference to the ball game with our local team at that place:

"The Healdsburg Outlaws, strengthened by several players from Santa Rosa, defeated Sonoma Sunday at Recreation park by a score of 5-2. The previous game was played at Sonoma where the locals won 8 4.

The game Sunday was the best seen on the local diamond this season and had the visiting pitcher received better support a closer score would have been recorded.

Four errors were charged to the visitors, while the home team was credited with two. Albert Bidwell umpired a fair game."

Pete Boccoli pitcher, was the star of the diamond, while "Dutch Andrieux's spectacular "steal home" caused quite a furore on the bleachers, Jack Canevari made a good catch on third base and Stewart, who will play all season with Sonoma, did some clever work.

The teams from Calistoga, Healdsburg, Napa and Sonoma are now known as the Vintage League, and will play a series of return matches.

Sonoma meets Napa tomorrow on our field.

WILL PICNIC AT BOYES

Two notable excursions that are bound to attract attention to Sonoma Valley and awaken interest in our superior attractions as a residence and health place, have been arranged by the management of Boyes Springs, who will welcome next Saturday about 350 employees of the Sperry Flour Company, who will come for their outing and be given a fine time. Sight seeing autos will be furnished by Belasco & Caldwell of the garage and everything done for the entertainment and amusement of the guests.

The biggest event of the season will be the excursion of the 5000 S P. employees from Sacramento, who will visit the popular resort on the 27 of the month. Dr. Parramore hopes in this way to attract the attention of the people of Sacramento to this valley.

Boyes opens tonight with a big time at the theatre, and the St. Francis Hotel orchestra will play Sunday night. Watch advertising space for official announcements.

NOTED DOCTORS TO MEET HERE

The physicians of the Northwestern Railroad Company will meet here in Sonoma on Saturday, the 13th instant. Dr. Miles Taylor and all of the doctors of the company, from the city to Eureka, will be in the party.

There will be a session at the office of Dr. A. M. Thomson to be followed by a fine dinner at S. Ciucci's, the Toscano Hotel.

The railroad staff meets at intervals for discussion, sociability and diversion at different points along the line.

This will be their first visit to Sonoma.

To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood and the cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is nature's great blood-maker, while its medicinal nourishment strengthens the organs to expel the impurities and upbuild your strength.

Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not find other relief.

Refuse the alcoholic substitutes.
